Premium HomeHeat:28

Q What are the key benefits of Premium HomeHeat:28?

A Premium HomeHeat:28 lowers carbon build-up, stabilises fuel, inhibits sludge formation, keeps fuel fresher, for longer, reduces service problems and improves system efficiency.

Q I have an Aga cooker which has been suffering from an increased build up of carbon deposits and has meant that I have had it serviced more frequently than ever before, what will Premium HomeHeat:28 do for me?

A Premium HomeHeat:28 has special ingredients that help avoid fuel degradation, deposits and other operating problems that routinely occur it also contains anti-oxidants which help AGA deposit/carbon build-up type problems but is not guaranteed to cure all problems.

Q Can I mix Premium HomeHeat:28 with the kerosene in my tank?

A Yes, they will be completely compatible. Depending upon how much regular kerosene is already in you tank, the full may benefit may not be achieved until the second fill-up

Q Will Premium HomeHeat:28 be compatible with my boiler/cooker and do I need to consult my engineer or manufacturer first?

A Premium HomeHeat:28 meets the same BS 2869 specification and is therefore compatible with your boiler if you are currently using regular kerosene. You do not need to consult your boiler or cooker manufacturer or heating engineer before using it
